10:00 o'clock A.M.

The senate was called to order by the president.

RULING OF THE CHAIR ON A POINT OF ORDER RELATIVE TO A MOTION TO SET A SPECIAL ORDER

On May 24, 1966, the Senator from the 10th District asked unanimous consent that Senate Bill 620 be taken from the calendar of Thursday, May 26 and made a special order for 9:00 a.m. on Friday, May 27.

The Senator from the 11th District objected.

The Senator from the 10th District then moved that Senate Bill 620 be taken from the calendar of Thursday, May 26 and made a special order for 9:00 a.m. on Friday, May 27.

The Senator from the 11th District rose to the point of order that the motion would require a two-thirds vote.

The President deferred ruling on the point of order.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE [May 25, 1966]

The Senate rules do not specify the stature of a motion to set a special order, but, after the motion is approved, the rules grant precedence over the regular order of business to the special order at the fixed time.

The Senate rules provide that in all points of parliamentary practice not covered by the rules, Jefferson's Manual shall apply and where Jefferson's Manual is not applicable, Mason's Manual shall apply.

Jefferson's Manual is not helpful on this point.

However, Mason's Manual, Sec. 264 (1), holds:

"The purpose of a special order is to expedite important business and set a definite time for its consideration, which gives such a special order privilege over other pending business. Whenever the making of a special order sets aside the general rules regarding the order of business it requires the same vote as would be required to specifically suspend the rules."

In support of this rule, Mason cites the revised edition of Hughes' American Parliamentary Guide, Sec. 157, the Clerk's Manual, State of New York, p. 499 and Sturgas Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure, 1951, p. 175.

There is a 1939, Wisconsin, precedent that might have some bearing on the point of order, but Mason's Manual, as published in 1962, clearly supercedes this precedent, especially in view of the wholesale revision of the rules of the Wisconsin Senate in the 1963 session and the specific instructions of Senate Rule 93, 1965 Manual to consult Mason's Manual if the point of procedure is not covered by either the Senate Rules or Jefferson's Manual.

It should also be noted that the Senate of the United States requires a two-thirds vote on a motion setting a special order of business.

Mason's Manual is especially applicable in this case since the rules of the Wisconsin Senate do give a special order precedence over other pending business and the making of such a special order does set aside the general rules regarding the order of business.

That the purpose of such a special order is to expedite important business is implicit in the Senate Rules. This purpose can be clearly illustrated in the point under advisement.

Senate Bill 620 was on the calendar of Thursday, May 26. On Tuesday, May 24, the Senate was still on the calendar of Monday, May 2, the day on which the session was reconvened after a recess. The current backlog of pending work and the deliberate pace of the Senate since reconvention make it extremely unlikely that the calendar of Thursday, May 24 would be reached by the date of May 25. Therefore, to set a bill from the calendar of May 24 on special order for May 25 would be to assure its consideration on that day by giving it precedence over other pending matters, clearly a case of expediting important business.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE [May 25, 1966]

The President holds, consonant with Mason's Manual, that, because a motion to set a special order is a motion to expedite important business by setting aside the general rules regarding the order of business, it requires a suspension of the rules and, therefore, a two-thirds vote.

The President holds that the point of order is well-taken.

PATRICK J. LUCEY,

President of the Senate.

May 25, 1966.

Senator Knowles appealed the decision of the chair.

The question was: Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the senate?

Senator Knowles secured unanimous consent to have his appeal of the decision of the chair be laid over until 5:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, May 27th.

Senate Bill 620

Relative to the point of order raised at yesterday's session by Senator Zaborski that the motion by Senator Knowles was not proper, as it was out of order while the bill was under advisement by the chair on a point of order;

The president ruled the point of order well taken.

With unanimous consent, Senator Zaborski withdrew his point of order raised at yesterday's session on a motion by Senator Knowles. (Page 2840 of the senate journal.)
